

Government of Western Australia
North Metropolitan Health Service

NATIONAL BOWELCANCER
SCREENING PROGRAM

 NATIONAL LUNG CANCER SCREENING PROGRAM

BreastScreen
WA
WA's only accredited screening service

NATIONAL CERVICAL
SCREENING PROGRAM
A joint Australian, state and territory government program

Screening Saves Lives

Be part of our next campaign to promote life-saving cancer prevention and screening options to our communities.

Be part of a life-saving campaign

Screening Saves Lives is refreshing its promotional materials to better reflect the rich diversity and strength within LGBTQIA+ communities – including multicultural, Aboriginal and disabled voices.

We're looking for volunteers who are passionate about cancer prevention to feature in vibrant, authentic photos that will help promote lifesaving screening programs.

What's involved?

You'll be photographed and featured in campaign materials. You can choose to support one specific screening program or all four, depending on what's relevant to you. We welcome individuals, couples, families and groups to take part. You will also have the option to contribute to articles developed to promote the programs.

Check if you're eligible to be featured in the Screening Saves Lives campaign:

Bowel screening

- ✓ Aged 45 to 74
- ✓ Have a bowel

Breast screening

- ✓ Aged 50 to 74
- ✓ Have breasts or chest tissue
- ✓ Have been taking gender affirming hormones for 5 years or more (trans women)

Cervical screening

- ✓ Aged 25 to 74
- ✓ Have a cervix
- ✓ Ever had any sexual contact

Lung screening

- ✓ Aged 50 to 70
- ✓ Currently smoke or quit within the past 10 years
- ✓ Have smoked the equivalent of a pack a day for 30 years

Why join?

Your visibility can inspire others. Representation matters. Together, we can save lives.

Scan the QR code to register your interest

